Adept Solutions' Managing Director, Mr Tom Cregan, commented, "This partnership is one that we are incredibly proud to announce. From a technical perspective it validates the flexibility of our technology in that we are able to customise it to solve a number of different business issues for The Salvation Army. The Salvation Army had an extensive due diligence process and we are proud to have been chosen to work with them. Just as important though, is that we are delighted to work with an organisation whose mission is to transform the lives of others".
